WING TIPS

BIG SIOUX CYBERPATRIOT TEAM GOING TO THE NATIONAL FINALS

The South Dakota Wing’s Big Sioux Composite Squadron will return to the national stage for the sixth time. A team of cadet cyber-defenders in Brookings will be competing in the national finals of CyberPatriot-XII (The National Cyber Youth Education Program) to be held in Bethesda, MD. The National Finals competition runs from 20-22 March 2020.

This year, Team Big Sioux consists of Cadet Captain Austen King of Volga, Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Annabelle Klosterman, Cadet Captain Isaiah Klosterman, Cadet Chief Master Sergeant Lydia Klosterman, all from Brandon, and Cadet Senior Airman Jeremiah Jorenby of Brookings. The team is coached by Captain Tyler Gross of Volga.

In recognition of their success, Team Big Sioux earned an all-expenses-paid trip to the national finals. In the finals, the only in-person round, the team will compete to defend virtual networks and mobile devices from a professional aggressor team. The finalists will also face-off in additional competition components. These extra challenges broaden the cybersecurity experience and expose teams to new elements of the many career opportunities available to them. The team will be scored on how quickly and effectively they establish and maintain secure networks.

CAP competes in the All Service Division of CyberPatriot, which includes junior ROTC teams for each of the military services as well as the Naval Sea Cadet Corps. CAP accounted for 476 of the 1,885 All Service teams competing in this year’s CyberPatriot XII.

- WING CADET LEADERSHIP ACADEMY: The South Dakota Wing's Cadet Leadership Academy was held on 31 January through 2 February 2020 at the Army National Guard's Regional Training Institute in Sioux Falls. Over 40 cadets participated from the Big Sioux Composite Squadron, Crazy Horse Composite Squadron, Lincoln County Composite Squadron, Miller Flight, Mitchell Composite Squadron, Rushmore Composite Squadron and Sioux Falls Composite Squadron. Participants attended classes covering topics such as professionalism, time management, drill and ceremonies, the planning process, communications, team dynamics, effective leadership styles, helping cadets learn the basics and command voice. Other classes added to the schedule were uniform inspections, dining etiquette and Pass-In-Review ceremony. A few new senior members who are volunteering in the Cadet Programs also attended the event to learn more about what the cadets are being taught.

The cadets received a Certificate of Completion and a navy blue t-shirt with the CLA logo as a souvenir that they can wear at their squadron.

The cadet staff consisted of C/Lt Col Annabelle Klosterman as the cadet commander with C/Capt Isaiah Klosterman and C/CMSGt Mercy Healy as course leaders, C/Capt Julia Lair, C/2d Lt Thomas Dillon, C/CMSGt Hunter Rice as Line staff and C/CMSGt Kaleb Sarchet and C/CMSGt Anthony Dillon as Logistics staff. Thank you to the officers on staff who assisted 1st Lt. Mimi Klosterman; 2nd Lt. Jodi Williams, Capt. Richard Rezac and 2nd Lt. Pandy Rezac. SM Rudy Trias was the Public Affairs Officer. Many thanks to class instructors: Lt. Col. Nick Gengler, Capt. Tyler Gross, Capt. Richard Rezac, 2nd Lt. Matt Healy, CMSgt Blake Parke and C/SMSGt Brayden Parke.

- SOUTH DAKOTA WING CADET COMPETITION: The South Dakota Wing's Cadet Competition was held at the Community Bible Church in Pierre February 21-22, 2020. The church graciously offered its facilities for our use through coordination with Capt. Jon Becker. Participating cadets were:

Pierre Composite Squadron (Pierre): C/1st Lt Alec Crowser, C/CMSgt Kade Vandussedorp, C/SrA Joshua Vermundsen and C/SrA Darion Osterkamp

Rushmore Composite Squadron (Rapid City): C/CMSgt Devin Griffin, C/TSgt Amber Kelly, C/SrA Phoebe Kellar, C/SSgt Banion Niles; CSrA Ka,es Ragaoms and C/Amn Hunter Rickard

Sioux Falls Composite Squadron (Sioux Falls): C/CMSgt Kaleb Sarchet, C/CMSgt Keon denHoed, C/SMSgt Brayden Parke, C/TSgt Grace Ingebretsen, C/SSgt Austin denHoed and C/SrA Ethan denHoed

The Teams were judged on their performance in Impromptu Speech, Mile Run, Leadership Problems, Spot Inspections, Indoor Color Guard presentation and Outdoor Color Guard presentation. The final results of competition were: First Place – Rushmore Composite Squadron, Second Place – Sioux Falls Composite Squadron, Third Place – Pierre Composite Squadron. Col. David Small, SD Wing Commander along with Lt. Col. Linda Buechler handed out the certificates and awards to cadets and squadrons.

The top two teams will be headed towards the North Central Region Cadet Competition scheduled for 24-26 April at Camp Dodge in Johnston, IA. Lt. Col. Buechler urges all squadrons in the Wing to work towards competing in the 2021 Cadet Competition.

A special thanks to all the personnel who helped make this competition such a great success.

- SEARCH AND RESCUE EXERCISE (SAREX): The February Wing SAREX was held in Custer from 14-15 February. We had an excellent turnout with 41 wing members present representing six squadrons. 12 camped out Friday night in shelters or small tents (10 cadets, 2 seniors). All survived just fine, no mishaps. In addition to personnel we had four aircraft and three vehicles present. First Tasking involved use of old and new CAP grid systems. Unfamiliarity of the new system caused some stress and confusion for the better part of an hour. Ground-to-air and air-to-ground tests of various methods including use of radio, signal mirrors, ground signals and aircraft signals to ground proved quite effective. The ground team was able to get aircraft to send a message to mission base using ground signals. 2nd Lt. Malisa Niles was "Molly Brown", "witness" to highway landing of an aircraft as she communicated to ground team leaders in witness interview. She was highly effective in role. Lessons learned included that though witness interviews can be very effective source of information they can also include false or misleading statements so treat witnesses as useful data point but not a the only source of tasking input. Second task was to take aerial photos and upload them to a FEMA website.

- JOINT DAKOTA EMERGENCY SERVICES ACADEMY: We are excited to announce the first Joint Dakota Emergency Services Academy (JDESA). Many of us remember when the Joint Dakota Encampment had an Emergency Services focus every other year. We're bringing the opportunity back for our wings to train together. This will be a week-long school, based on NESAs curriculum, requirements and schedule. It is our goal to develop this program into a NESAs-level course, hopefully getting the JD ESA approved as a National Cadet Special Activity. Other possible areas of growth would be to offer Aircrew, Communications, Incident Command Staff and other schools.

Where and When: June 26-July 3 at Camp Rapid, Rapid City, SD. The cost will be $120 for the week-long course. That includes food, t-shirts, and a week of great training. We are also offering scholarships! If you would like to apply for a scholarship simply send Capt. Rezac an email with a letter requesting a scholarship. We plan on offering 2 courses. Basic GSAR (GTM3) and Advanced GSAR (GTM1). These courses are an intensive combination of classroom and field training that provides students with the opportunity to complete all requirements for these ratings. More info is on the signup page: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/2020-joint-dakota-emergency-services-academy-tickets-94180657883>. We also have a FB page set up for the event. Go over and like our page to keep up-to-date: <https://www.facebook.com/jointdakotaesa/>.

We are still looking to fill some of our staff positions. If you would like to help, just let us know. We will definitely find a job for you! Please contact the Activity Director Capt. Richard Rezac if you are interested in helping richard.rezac@sdwg.cap.gov. Many of you will have questions. Please feel free to ask Capt. Rezac. We are looking forward to building an Emergency Services training program that will rival any other school in Civil Air Patrol! More information will be posted on the signup page so keep an eye on it in the future. Hope to see you there!

- MARKSMANSHIP: South Dakota Wing's National Rifle Association Marksmanship Event is set for 25 April in Ft Pierre. We already have 17 of our 32 slots filled. Please coordinate with your unit commanders on transportation, and to make sure slots aren't over-booked. Register on our Eventbrite link: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/sd-wing-cap-marksmanship-weekend-tickets-90393133295>. Any questions can go to Capt Richard Rezac at richard.rezac@sdwg.cap.gov.

- AERIAL WILDLIFE SURVEYS: SDWG flew four aerial surveys of terrestrial wildlife over four days in February in support of the state's Department of Game, Fish & Parks (GF&P) and South Dakota State University (SDSU). Both organizations have continually ongoing research projects surveying mountain lions, bobcats, swift foxes, white-tailed deer, mule deer, elk, bighorn sheep, and mountain goats. The result was 12.5 hours flying over western South Dakota and the Black Hills and 2.6 hours flying over eastern South Dakota for a total of 15.1 flight hours. CAP pilots were: Lt. Col. Gary Hewett, three sorties; Capt. Neil Schmid, one sortie. Depending whom the sortie supported the pilot was accompanied by a representative from SDSU or from GF&P.

WING HEALTH OFFICER

Lt. Col. Linda Buechler, CAP

- COVID-19/CORONAVIRUS: The virus produces fever, cough, and difficulty breathing and can be spread from those who are infected through close contact (within 2 meters) with respiratory droplets that infect a person's mouth, nose, and possibly eyes. CAP members should frequently wash their hands with soap and water for 20-seconds (or use hand sanitizer when soap and water is unavailable), avoid close contact with the sick, cough into their elbows, use facial tissues, avoid commonly touched surfaces, clean commonly touched surfaces, do not shake hands and call a healthcare provider if you develop a fever (temperature >100.4 Fahrenheit without anti-fever medications), cough or shortness of breath. If you are ill, stay home and do not participate in-person at CAP meetings or activities until you are fever and cough/ sneeze free without medications for at least 24-hours. Commanders should consider working with their staff to identify plans for telework meetings or alternate work sites that minimizes human contact.
- FLU SHOT: It's not too late to get your flu vaccine!! While it won't prevent COVID-19, it can help protect from seasonal flu.
- HEALTH CRISIS PREPAREDNESS: Store a two-week supply of water and food. Assure you have your regular prescription drugs at home. Have nonprescription drugs and other health supplies on hand, including pain relievers, stomach remedies, cough and cold medicines, fluids with electrolytes, and vitamins. Have cash on hand. Keep gas tanks full.
- LIFESTYLE: healthy lifestyle habits strengthen immune systems: a healthy diet that includes fruits and vegetables, regular exercise, drink recommended amounts of water, get good restorative sleep, reduce stress, limit or avoid alcohol. Don't Smoke. Avoid overuse of energy drinks, caffeine.

WING DIRECTOR OF PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Col. Mary Donley, CAP

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT - CHANGE IS COMING!!!: National Headquarters has just sent out to Professional Development Officers the NEW Professional Development Program, and it is different. I am not going to go into now but please look for an email from me or your squadron commander in a few weeks. I am taking this time to become familiar with the new program so I can present it to you in a way that makes sense and is workable. It is designed to go into effect this coming August 2020!

In the meantime - check and see where you are in the Level System. Go to CAPR 50-17 and find the chart in the attachments that explains what you need to complete the level you are on. For example--the majority of senior members are in Level II or Level III. What do you need to complete your Level?

Level II--You need to have completed the Squadron Leadership School (SLS), Have or get a Technician Rating in one of your Specialty Track and complete the Officer Basic Course (OBC). You can still sign up for the online versions of LSLS and OBC but they must be completed by August. Sign up now if you need to!! If all those are done you have completed Level II.

Level III--You need to have completed the Corporate Learning Course (CLC), have or get a Senior Rating in your Specialty Track, attend at least 2 wing, region or national conferences, serve in a staff position for 1 year, and earn the Yeager Aerospace Award. You can still sign up for the online CLC and take the Yeager test as long as they are finished by August 2020. You can attend our wing conference May 8 and Region Conference later in May. So there are ways to complete your Level! If all this is done you have completed Level III.

If you are short just one or two things in your level you have until August 2020 to complete this level. If you have any questions about where you are now please contact me at: mary.donley@sdqg.cap.gov or call me at 605-321-8056! I will help each of you that ask for help! I want this transition to go as smoothly as possible.

That brings me to another point - I am going to need help when this new program is implemented. Please consider stepping up to help with this transition and with the Professional Development Program. It is a very rewarding position and no - you don't need to be a teacher! You just need to want to see people succeed!

★ ★ U.S. NAVY ADMITS UFOS ARE REAL ★ ★

On Dec. 16, 2017, the New York Times ran a front-page story revealing the existence of a congressionally mandated program to study unidentified flying objects (UFOs). The article was accompanied by two recently declassified DoD videos obtained by F-18 fighter pilots. On both occasions, the UFOs were seen in broad daylight by numerous Navy personnel, the reports were independently corroborated by sophisticated military sensor systems, and the unidentified aircraft demonstrated revolutionary aeronautical capabilities. For example, some of the craft were observed descending from altitudes above 80,000 feet, then hovering as low as 50 feet above the ocean before accelerating to hypersonic speeds from a dead stop.

As more information emerged, including the release of another official DoD video, a handful of senators and representatives on the national security oversight committees sought briefings. At this point, the Navy and DoD could no longer conceal the truth. Joseph Gradisher, a spokesman for the deputy chief of naval operations, admitted that the vehicles in the declassified Navy videos are neither a hoax nor secret U.S. test aircraft: “The Navy designates the objects contained in these videos as unidentified aerial phenomena,” or UAP. In other words they might be Russian, Chinese, or even alien spacecraft. Whatever they are, they are real, they aren’t ours, and they continue to violate U.S. airspace with impunity.

With that short statement, the Navy upended the conclusions of every prior U.S. government examination of the UFO phenomenon, from Project Sign in 1948 to Project Blue Book, which was terminated in 1969. Written when the Cold War was in full swing, these reports were designed to debunk UFO sightings and discredit civilian UFO researchers in order to reassure, rather than inform the public.

Later in the article the author writes about the famous “Gimbal” video posted by the New York Times, in which one of the pilots is heard to exclaim, “There’s a whole fleet of them out there!” He was referring to a V-shaped formation of smaller craft approaching the fighters as they observed a larger “mothership” in the video. At close range, these bizarre craft appear to be black cubes, the corners of which are touching the inside of transparent spheres a mere six feet in diameter. There are no discernable air inlets, exhaust, wings, or means of lift or propulsion, yet they have been tracked at supersonic speeds and seem able to remain aloft indefinitely.
